SCHOOLS OPEN 8 AM WEDNESDAY

Next Wednesday is the beginning of the 1969-70 school year.

Enrollment in the Wilmington Public Schools is expected to reach approximately 4,885, which is an increase of 100 over last year. Home room assignments appear in this issue of the Town Crier for pupils of the Intermediate and High Schools, and Bus schedules are also in this week's issue. Parents of elementary school children are to receive notification of school assignments by mail.

Buses, the school authorities say, are liable to run a few minutes late during the first few days of school, but should be running at scheduled times by the second week of school. Regulations governing transportation are the same as in past years.

Children in the first eight grades who have to walk over 1 1/2 miles and High School children who have to walk over 2 miles are eligible for school bus transportation.

Special arrangements for the handicapped are being made by the Acting Superintendent of Schools, Walter H. Pierce.

The new school on Shawsheen Avenue is not scheduled for occupancy until around March 1 of next year. To avoid double sessions this winter the All Purpose rooms at the Wildwood, Woburn Street, Boutwell and Glen Road Schools, and two rooms at the Center School are being used. Authorities emphasize that this is a temporary situation only, and that no undue hardships should occur except for changes in the hot lunch arrangements.

School hours at the High and Intermediate Schools will be from 8 am to 2:20 pm.

The Elementary School hours will be from 8:45 am to 3:15 pm., except that on Wednesday they will close at noon. Lunch will be served on all five days.

Jaycee Coffee Watch This Weekend

The annual Labor Day weekend coffee watch of the Wilmington Jaycees will serve coffee to weary motorists again this year. They will be set up in the northbound rest area between Concord and Park Streets on Route 93 on Friday evening. Monday evening will see them in the southbound rest area with coffee for homebound travelers.

The committee for the coffee watch is headed by Bill Ready and Bill Eldridge. Other coffee watchers include: Roy Leroque, Jim Newhouse, Jim MacMullin, George Veloza, Stan Reilly, Ralph Newhouse, Frank Stone, Bob Taylor, Ed Spence, Bob Rankin, and Paul Elmstrom.

The Jaycees wish to publicly thank Smithcraft Corp. for a most generous contribution, which will be used to defray the expenses of the 'Outstanding Young Man' project.

No Heavenly Honey

The work of painting the Congregational Church steeple stopped abruptly, last Thursday.

The painters came down to the ground, and declared that they could hear bees, in the steeple, and they didn't feel like working until somebody got the bees out.

The report that went around town was that there was a perfectly gigantic beehive, with hundreds and hundreds of pounds of honey - Heavenly Honey, perhaps.

As the report spread, listeners nodded their heads in agreement. Maybe that's why the clock was stopping - if only someone would go up there once in a while and inspect the place - maybe they'd discover some things.

John Ten Dyke, electrical engineer, of 2 Hathaway Road, and an apirist (bee expert) on the side, was called, when he got home that evening. John gathered his equipment and went up into that belfry. There was nothing there - except the clock, and its motor. The motor, electric, was humming.

And, that's the end of the story about the Heavenly Honey, and perhaps about the Town Clock stopping too!

SUMMER POPS WITH KEN WILSON

Drug Addict

Six Months in Bridgewater

A Wilmington youth who has been a problem for some years to the clergy and police is to spend the next six months in the Massachusetts Correctional Institution in Bridgewater, where, the court hopes, he can correct himself of the addiction to drugs.

The youth appeared in Court in Woburn last week, where he was sentenced to six months with a two year probation. He had gone to Dr. Ralph LePore, of Middlesex Avenue and asked for a prescription for being overweight, and had stolen one or more of the doctor's prescription slips, at the time.

Dr LePore prescribed 40 tablets which contain Amphetamine, which, in addition to being used for weight reduction, are also used by heroin addicts to 'get high' before taking an injection.

After having bought the prescribed tablets in the North Wilmington Pharmacy he presented a duplicate of the prescription in the Wilmington Center Pharmacy, where Mrs Woodside became suspicious and called the authorities.

Acquaintances say that the youth was earning $100 a week, and his drug habit was costing him $40 a day. They also say that he had recently bought some marijuana in Lawrence, in company with three other youths, not from Wilmington. It turned out that they had paid $75 for some tea.

The youth did not speak, in court. He was represented by an attorney who said that he sincerely wanted to rid himself of the drug habit. Justice Francis Cullen then advised that he go to Bridgewater for six months.

Weed Control Project For Silver Lake?

Selectman George Boylen, about three weeks ago, discussed briefly in the Selectmen's Meeting that he would like to see a weed control program for Silver Lake, especially near the Town Beach.

He and other Selectmen have now been notified by Rep. Fred F. Cain that the Massachusetts Department of Public Works will appoint a person to discuss the project with the Selectmen.

Commissioner King of the DPW will probably choose not to follow the old method of clearing weeds from Silver Lake - even if it was successful.

75 years ago, when the Boston

Ice Company had 17 ice houses where the Town Beach and the Mildred Rogers School is now, a hay cutter was sent into the lake each fall, early in the season, to cut weeds, much in the same manner as grass was cut for hay. Two horses would pull the rig back and forth, from what is now the Town Beach to Melzar's.

Next day employees of the Ice Company, in boats, would rake up the cut weeds, and dispose of them on shore.

The idea was to have clean ice, in the winter. The ice was shipped to Boston, daily, during the following summer months, for sale to householders.

Nature's Ways

by Wayne Hanley

Dragonfly nymphs are frascible big bugs that prowl along pond bottoms in New England snapping up almost any live flesh from mosquito larvae to small minnows.

Dragonfly nymphs not only have an insatiable appetite for mosquito wrigglers, but also have an ingenious meat trap for taking them. They have a unique structure, known as a labium, which amounts to a lower jaw that can be jugged forward half the body length and snapped on a victim. The labium can be flicked out and back as fast as the lightning action of a toad's long tongue.

When viewing a dragonfly nymph in an aquarium, one must watch closely to catch the labium action. For it is so fast that mosquito wrigglers seem to be vanishing mysteriously, especially since there appears to be no body contact between the nymph and the wriggler.

After a couple of years as an underwater insect - often eating mosquito wrigglers at the rate of 20 per minute - the nymph crawls out of the water and transforms into a dragonfly - sometimes known as the devil's darning needle, or the mosquito hawk.

In adult form the dragonfly becomes one of the fastest creatures on wings. They can fly backward, up, down, or forward at unbelievable speeds. Indeed, dragonflies not only are among the most difficult insects to net, but also are so adept at flying that they often outmaneuver such aerial experts as the swallows that sometimes pursue them.

Adult dragonflies make a specialty of scooping up smaller flying insects and eating them. Since they spend most of their time near ponds, mosquitoes are a favorite prey. The adults fold their six legs into what amounts to a mosquito net and strain mosquitoes from the air. Adult dragonflies that had more than 100 adult mosquitoes in their mouths have been captured.

If the information so far makes dragonflies, both as nymphs and as adults, seem a terror to mosquitoes - well, that's exactly what they are. So much so, that a few biological supply houses in the South have been peddling dragonfly nymphs at $18 per hundred as mosquito controllers.

Several New England neighborhood improvement societies - especially in Maine - have been buying the little beasts and tossing them into local ponds. The search for some control other than DDT for mosquitoes has great merit, especially since DDT is as deadly to beneficial insects such as dragonflies as it is to mosquitoes.

The importation plan has serious flaws, however. As any ecologist could advise, the purchase of dragonfly nymphs is a waste of money. Any pond that can support dragonflies already has as many as it can support.

There are 412 species of dragonflies in North America and an individual female of some species lays up to 100,000 eggs. While perhaps only two or three new dragonflies will result from such a tremendous clutch of eggs, the fact that the remainder of the eggs and young dragonflies never reach the surface indicates that a surplus already exists.

In other words, dragonfly nymphs at 18 cents each are rather expensive tidbits of fish food - or even dragonfly food, since the larger nymphs have no hesitancy about gobbling up younger cousins.

What dragonflies need is not encouragement but less discouragement. Fouled water is more of a discouragement to dragonflies than to mosquitoes since young mosquitoes do not depend upon water purity as dragonflies must, but breathe air through a tube that punctures the water surface.

Annoyance Telephone Calls

The New England Telephone Co. now has three weapons in its arsenal with which to combat annoyance callers.

Richard B. Flynn, New England Telephone news supervisor, says three electronic tracing devices currently are being used by the company to identify the persons making the bothersome and sometimes threatening 'crank' calls.

The trap circuit prints out a card with the number of the caller's phone on it.

The pen register can be attached to a suspect's telephone and every time he calls, it records the number dialed in addition to the time and date of the call.

Also in used is a line identification device which locks in the caller's line until the number can be identified.

Flynn says the type of tracing equipment used depends upon the type of equipment in the central telephone office of a particular area.

It is estimated that as many as one third of obscene or weird calls are made by people who are mentally ill. Many are made by juveniles who consider them a prank. Others result from business conflicts, marital discord and other types of emotional problems.

But Flynn says that every kind of annoyance call - whether obscene, crank, weird or just annoying - can be coped with if the customer is willing.

Here are several guidelines for customers in preventing or stopping annoyance calls:

Always use the telephone on your terms. Cranks who make annoying calls want an audience.

Know to whom you are talking. If you doubt your party's identity, check it.

Demand names and numbers before furnishing your own. Many persons have acquired steady nuisance calls by identifying themselves too quickly.

If silence greets your second hello, hang up.

Hang-up immediately after an indecent remark.

That's the key - hang up on an annoyance caller. Usually that's the end of the problem.

Instruct children and baby sitters not to give out information. Have them obtain the caller's name and number and say that you will call them.

Persons receiving abusive, obscene or annoying calls should keep a log that includes the time, duration, and other characteristics of the call.

This information forms a pattern that in many cases points straight to the suspect.

Those receiving annoying calls should be prepared to sign complaints and follow through with prosecution when the suspect has been caught.

If annoying calls persist, Flynn says, one approach is to click the cradle-button a few times and say in a matter-of-fact way, 'All right officer, this is the call you've been waiting for.' Then hang up. The caller's imagination should do the rest.

If annoying calls persist, notify the telephone company.

Call the police if a threat is made at any time.

Specially trained telephone company teams are assigned to key telephone offices to assist in the investigation of annoyance calls. They work with local law enforcement authorities in apprehending such offenders.

Flynn says the telephone company tries to give special consideration to families of servicemen plagued by annoyance calls. On several occasions the next-of-kin of soldiers serving in Vietnam have been subjected to cruel false casualty reports. These have been delivered by telephone in many cases.

The Department of the Army reports that such notices are never telephoned to the family, but are delivered in person by an armed services officer who is prepared to present proof of his identity if asked.

Locating the source of annoyance calls is sometimes difficult. Finding the offending telephone is not enough for court evidence. There must be proof of who made the call.

While the use of electronic line identification devices is complex, it has proven successful, and the future offers greater promise with new developments in telephone communications.

Telephone tracing equipment and investigating personnel are available and at work now to make the telephone what it is designed to be - a convenience and not a nuisance.

Selectmen's Meeting

A hearing for 6,000 gallons of gas for Barbo turned out to be explosive, Monday night.

Mrs Drew had come primed for a fight, because of the hearing of two weeks previously, in which 3 of the Selectmen had denied Barbo a permit for a 10,000 gallon storage.

The permit, of course, was for industrial use - not for the sale of gasoline. It was for the new Barbo warehouse, at the end of Fordham Road.

Mrs Drew immediately moved to amend the amount to 10,000 gallons, and Chairman Banda seconded Mrs Drew.

Banda said that he would allow the motion, pending a ruling from the Town Counsel.

Leo Barbo, who was present, stood up, and thanked the Selectmen, but all he was asking for was a 6,000 gallon permit, he said. He appreciated what Mrs Drew was trying to do, and he apologized for two weeks ago, when he walked out of the meeting.

Barbo said he had been in consultation with a trucking company, and he 'could live with 6,000 gallons'.

Selectman Boylen spoke up to say he regretted that the vote had been twisted to mean a lack of confidence and assured Barbo that he had confidence in him. He had voted against the 10,000 gallons for the reason that it was a non-commercial use, and felt that should he vote with restrictions, future boards could lift the restrictions. He spoke to Mr Barbo of what could happen 'when you and I are gone'.

Barbo told the Selectmen that he would never have a gas station in the Wilmington Industrial Park, and that it was on record in the Lowell Registry of Deeds, and also at Cambridge, and he had agreements with all the lessee's in the park to this effect.

Miceli started to speak: 'I am a man of few words!'

'Harumph!' said Wavie Drew. Miceli said he would not apologize for his vote, that Barbo could get along with the 6000 capacity, and it was not because of a gas station.

Former Selectman Nick DeFelice was in the audience, and got permission to speak. De Felice told the Selectmen that his trucks used gas at the rate of 3 1/2 gallons to 5 gallons a mile, and in the winter it was 2 miles to the gallon sometimes.

DeFelice said that with a larger tank Barbo could buy his gas cheaper. With a delivery of 8000 gallons he could buy for 16¢, but with a smaller capacity the price was 19¢.

DeFelice began to explain his personal feelings in the matter, but didn't get a chance to finish.

As a former Selectman, he said, he felt that when a Selectman disagreed with an issue he should vote in the negative - but he had had telephone calls from people asking what the Board was looking for from Barbo.

Miceli jumped up, and the words were hot and heavy. Miceli took exception on a personal basis, with Chairman Jim Banda on his feet too, trying to quiet the two men.

Banda told Miceli to 'Let the man talk - he was a former member of the board - and if Miceli wouldn't keep quiet he would cut them both off.'

And he told DeFelice to keep his remarks to the issue at hand. Both men quieted down, and the 6,000 gallon storage was voted.

Boylen didn't vote, at that time, after the interchange, because he 'wasn't voting when people thought the board was looking for something'. Later he voted in favor, making the vote four to zero, MacDonald being absent on vacation.

Pocket Gas Stations

During the meeting the Selectmen, off and on, talked of the Elia application for a gas station, with Boylen suggesting from time to time a 'straw vote' to get their feelings - MacDonald being absent.

When the subject came up for formal discussion Boylen said he would not vote against Elia unless the board were going to do it as a part of getting rid of all 'pocket gas stations' (unused licenses). Boylen said he felt that there was no economic drainage on Elia because he had no permit for a gas station.

Miceli said he would vote for a revoke on the same condition, since

Mobil had indicated that they were not interested because of the restriction on gallonage.

Mrs Drew was not in favor, because Elia was 'alive' and the other holders were 'dead'. Boylen tried to say that Buck, the original holder was 'dead' but Mrs Drew was adamant about Elia.

Banda said he would not vote for a gas station, but to revoke this one alone was not fair to Elia. It would have to be a 'package', and he intended, in regular session, to revoke them all. Boylen said he would 'buy that'.

The Selectmen agreed that there would be hearings, two each night, starting at the top of the list, as prepared by the Town Clerk.

Felice Vitale, of Woburn Street, on recognition from the chair, said that Elia, a prominent and well liked businessman in town, couldn't have his permit and strangers were 'making money at it'. Mrs Drew then firmly corrected Vitale, in the fact that a permit had been issued to Elia to build, within three years, and he hadn't done it. Boylen indicated that Elia couldn't take advantage of the permit because of the restrictions.

Marion Street

Eight or nine Marion Street residents were present to find out why a zoning violation had been 'thrown out of court'.

The upshot of the discussion was that the Chief of Police is to be instructed to have police watch three places on Marion Street for alleged violations of the zoning laws, in that they are operating, the Selectmen were told, junk yards and auto repair places.

Building Inspector Roy McClanahan was summoned to explain the 'thrown out of court'. McClanahan said that it wasn't so, that the Clerk of the Woburn Court had thrown out the case for lack of evidence.

Walter Parsons and Reg Bishop were the spokesmen. Parsons said that not a single resident of Marion Street had been notified of the hearing, and he and Bishop made it clear that the troubles they were complaining of had been going on for two years, and a 'cease and desist' order had been issued last year.

McClanahan explained that the Town Counsel had advised him to get evidence, and that he would as a consequence have to spend a lot of time on Marion Street - or have a police officer assigned, to get the evidence on instruction of the court.

TM Sterling Morris spoke up to say that he, (the TM) had been lax, in not assigning the Building Inspector to Marion Street, but there was a heavy work load.

Miceli instructed the TM to have a police officer there 'tomorrow' and that the board should issue a complaint before Friday.

Boylen then, quite astutely, observed that he didn't know why all of this needed to go on, since the violation was against a Police By-Law in town, and that it should be followed through by the police, particularly since a 'cease and desist' order had been issued last year. The board instructed the TM that the Chief of Police be notified.

Other Business

Daniel J MacKinnon of 15 Cedar Street was granted a taxi license, after a report from the Chief of Police. Richard Howe of Lowell, his attorney, said that MacKinnon would be operating from 281 Main Street with a business phone and a two-way radio. Boylen amended the permit to read that it would be non-transferable.

Another applicant for a taxi license had failed to give the Chief of Police information, and as a result there was no action.

Chairman Banda read reports on the number of taxis operating in adjoining communities, and the board got into a discussion of whether or not the number of cabs in Wilmington should be restricted.

Miceli was against restriction. Boylen said that with so many no one could make a living, and they would be operating part time.

The TM reminded the board that they had reserved the right to establish a number, and that five licenses was the limit for one company.

Mrs Drew asked that the discussion be carried on to another date.

Permission was granted, without fee, to the Wilmington Regional Hospital, for a fair on the hospital grounds on Lowell Street, Sept. 25-29. Chairman Banda explained that all the Wilmington organizations were joining forces to raise the money for the hospital, and that Larry Carr of Wildwood Street was going to provide his equipment.

A license was granted to the 125 Auction Hall to hold an auction on Labor Day. Banda questioned the legality, and Boylen made the motion 'if it was legal'.

Albert Silva of Forest Street was given permission to purchase a town owned tract of land, triangular in shape, adjacent to his own property, with the usual restrictions that it be made one contiguous lot with his own. It has to be a cash sale, within six months, and as recommended by the Planning Board.

The board voted to sell to the Jackson Brothers land, as voted in the Town Meeting, for $3100. In the discussion it was brought out that the Jackson Brothers had given an easement through a lot of land in North Wilmington for a water main to the Barrows Well Field, and also a strip of land 20 feet wide, from the Swain Lot, opposite Lucci's, on Lowell Street, for widening the street. Mrs Drew demurred from voting.

Chairman Banda told the board that Rep. Cain had left the Democratic Party, last Saturday, to cast the deciding vote on the 'Billboard Law.' The vote was 100 against, and 99 in favor, after Mr Cain had arrived to vote against. Banda congratulated Cain for his action.

Anton, of Anton's Taxi, with respect to the survey on taxis in adjoining towns, asked if the town had surveyed prices.

He was told by Boylen that the Wilmington taxis had had a 50% increase in 1967, and that they would have to live with the new rates, as set up by the board.

New Business

Miceli asked if the money for the Fire Department uniforms had been obtained. He was told that the Finance Committee had voted no money, 5 - 0. He then wanted to know about an emergency phone at the Town Park, and the TM said it would have to be a 'public' phone. Miceli then called to the board's attention the Fish Program, originated by the Wilmington Council of Churches. The call number, he said, will be 657-7778.

Boylen asked for street lights in the Suncrest Acres area, and wanted to know about the widening of West Street. He was told that the light company had not yet changed the wires.

Morris said he had requested a transfer of $2000 to the Police Department, and the Finance Committee had voted for it, 9 - 0. Boylen assured the TM that he didn't need to consult on such a matter, but Morris said it was a matter of courtesy.

On the request of the TM, Boylen suggested that the 1970 Chapter 90 monies be spent on West Street, since the projected cost is $35,000, out of taxation, and this could save the town $26,000. The TM said he would check it through.

Miceli asked for sidewalks on Boutwell Street from Aldrich Road to the School.

Tax Explanation

Sterling Morris told the board that the tax rate, as shown on the upper left hand corner of the tax bills now being received, was deceiving, since it showed that the School Rate had only gone up $1.39 and the General Rate $4.61.

$350,000 in available funds had been voted for the Schools, Morris pointed out. Usually this is just a small amount, but this year, if it had not been so voted, it would have meant an increase of an additional $3.00 for the Schools.

Executive Session

At 9:30 the board went into an executive session with four residents of Alderwood Estates, and their attorney, Melvyn Levin of Brookline, for many years the counsel for the Wilmington Housing Authority.

REGISTRY OF MOTOR VEHICLES

The Registry is going to be open on Saturdays again starting Sept 6 in Lowell for registration and license applications, 9 to 12 Noon. Also the Lawrence Registry Office.

Nosey Nancy

Send your announcements to Nancy, Box 208, Wilmington, or call 657-7141, and after five, 658-4865. If I'm not there, then I'll call you!

Hey, this chick is back from vacation - vacation hah! Anyway we had a great stay on the Vineyard, and we've now gotten the Clan ready for school, the Depot with a dressed up coat of paint and the books almost ready to go--

Anyway, you guys overseas--Will you drop this chick a card if you want books...They are all about ready, and there are about 24 in a box of good paperbacks, but we don't want to send them and have them returned if you're on the way home...So, let's hear huh! And again, we want to tell those great Kiwanians thanks for the postage donation...Don't know how this gal could run her projects without those boys!

Speaking of Kiwanians...Did you get that card of to Hayward Bliss at the Winchester Hospital? I've heard of rough vacations, but this won't do, Hayward...You get better...We need you around Wilmington. If there is any fellow that does more good for the community than Hayward, this chick doesn't know him...and what is more Hayward does it on the QT! Our heart is with you there boy...Let's go!

And...that Dapper Harold McKelvey is back at home and doing very nicely after his operation...

It was good to hear his voice on the phone...He says you did it again...He got over 200 cards... You folks are the greatest...However, Harold is a little grieved. Seems that the Veteran Boys must be on vacation on account of Harold we believe is the oldest living veteran in Wilmington and he didn't have a single card from the Vets Orgs...Sure they will be in touch with you soon, Harold...And Lil Woodside and I and Mrs Mobbs are looking forward to that picnic! So, get going there, fella!

IS YOUR CALENDAR HANDY...

We really got you going on FISH, didn't we? Ho, has that ever been fun...Well, by now you know that it is an emergency 'Help' organization for the Town and able Les White is the leader and director...Fish phone is 657-7778...However, if you are shy about calling Les, he has agreed that you can get in touch with this chick and do your volunteering... So, if you have an hour even, or can dust a cabinet, or cook a casserole, or read to a sick kid, or drive a golden ager to the doc's call me, and tell me what and when you are available for, and we'll get this thing going...From this Chick's chair, she'd say that this will be one of the best things ever for this Berg, and that you will all be available, race, color, or creed notwithstanding...Already she has five gals that have volunteered for something and three of them work full time...So phone me at 657-7141, or drop a card to Box 208 Town, and let's go!

Your Calendar is really going to burst already this month...Don't forget that Kiwanis Supper on the Common on September 6th...and Now, Kids, for August 29, take your pennies and hie yourselves to Kathy McGinleys at 156 Middlesex Avenue for the new Muscular Dystrophy Carnival. Helping her will be Natalie Federico and Pat Harrison and it will begin at 10 am. There will be fortune telling refreshments, throw darts with balloon targets, penny pitching, comic book sales (for which all donations are gratefully received) So, get down there and join the fun for a good cause!

Thanks to Anonymous who dropped off the yarn for Nellie during vacation...We need more there gals...Let's go!

Sunday School for Mentally Retarded youngsters at the Methodist Church. All are welcome between the ages of seven and eleven if educable, no matter what his religion. Registration on September 7th at 9:30. Call the church 658-4519 if you wish further info!

Margie Gamble of 30 Marion St completed a course in field biology at the Audubon Camp in Maine at Medomak, Maine this summer. Congratulations, Margie!

This chick wants to thank Susan Adams and the Moore Boys for the rescue job on Arline Avenue the other night, while this chick was instructing one of the Clan on the elementary procedures of turning the car around...The green

Tony DeLuca thinks it's a small world. He's the principal at that North Intermediate. He spent this summer in Rome and stayed at a swank hotel for 6 days. One day he bumped smack into Fr Mackin of St Thomas, who was staying in a hotel across the street.

'It's a small world,' says Tony, but what he doesn't know is that Fr Mackin moved up to the second floor, when he learned what the prices were on the first floor!

Congratulations to Ginny Vittorioso from Cunningham Street. She won $25.00 for a recipe that appeared in the Record on Sunday (Pictorial Living Section) on the 14th of September. Seems that she calls it her Sunday Salad Super and it is made up of potatoes shrimp and black olives and eggs (Must have been Gin buying all those shrimp on Weinberg's corner last week!)

Thanks Bill Rice for the note. Choag is at Fort Lewis in the 22 Engineer Co (CS) and he says he's the only radio man and they are building roads at Ft Lewis. Glad you are going to stop and see him...Should be a hot time in the old town that night...and we'll be waiting for you on the first of September...Is what I hear true?

NO Questions asked is the word from some of those Kiwanians. Someone stole their banner--the one that hung across Church St advertising that supper on the Common. It happened Sunday night between 9 and 10:15 pm, and the Kiwanians are blaming (or some of them, anyway) the Boys. This gal thinks somewhat differently. How about some of the Kiwanians from say Reading or Wakefield? Wouldn't that just be a wonderful prank to play on those Wilmington Kiwanians?

And to the Boys! The Captain says we are short of space this week on account of the school bus schedules...so received your nice notes and cards, and will share them with all of you when we have space...Meanwhile, keep safe, and healthy, we send our love!
Don't forget your card for books! See you next week!

Medicine during the 18th - and well into the 19th - century was a rudimentary science.

If the illness or injury was serious, chances of a recovery was minimal.

Therefore, money for higher education went for the training of clergymen. In this way, their souls, if not their bodies, would be taken care of.

But when sickness or injury struck, the same clergyman was called on for medical help.

One minister, Thomas Thatcher, of the Old South Church in Boston, actually wrote the first medical text published in the colonies and acquired fame as a physician.

Medicine has come a long way since the 18th century. A complete supply of medications is available at Silver Lake Pharmacy, 52 Main Street. Call 658-4617. Open 9-10 every day. Assorted greeting cards for all occasions, Cosmetics, Candy.

Pellerin-Blodgett Nuptials

At an eleven o'clock nuptial mass on August 9, at St Thomas Church, Diana Lynne Pellerin, daughter of Mr and Mrs M J Pellerin of 295 Burlington Avenue, Wilmington was married to Joseph Schler Blodgett, son of Mrs George E. Blodgett and the late Mr. Blodgett of Salem New Hampshire. The Rev. Fr. Croke officiated.

The church was decorated gayly with snap dragon, carnations, and stephanotis.

Gowned in Chantilly lace with five tiers of ruffles and long bridal sleeves, the bride wore a headpiece of seed pearls, sand crystals attached to a nylon veil, and was given in marriage by her father.

In attendance were Patricia Clancy, sister of the Bride, from Tewksbury, Judy Zides of Billerica and Susan Johnson of Boston, friends of the Bride, and Peggy Blodgett, a sister of the groom. They were gownned in yellow, aqua and pink, and carried blue hand bouquets.

The ushers were Bob Blodgett of Salem, a brother of the groom Peter Pellerin Jr, a brother of the bride, Bill Smith of Ipswich a friend of the groom, and William Blodgett, a brother of the groom.

A lovely reception was tendered the couple at the Elks Hall in Tewksbury, with Diana Johanan attending the guest book.

For the wedding, the bride's mother chose an aqua lace redingote with silver buttons and bone accessories and wore a corsage of double white orchids.

For her trip to Bermuda, the bride chose green taffeta redingote with gold buttons and white accessories and wore a pink cymbium corsage.

The bride was educated at Wilmington High School and Fisher Junior College and was employed at Sylvania. The groom was educated at Salem High School and Haverhill Trade School and spent four years in the Navy. He is now employed as a tool and die maker in Beverly.

The couple will be at home in the Village Green Apartments in North Andover after September 14th.

Crusaders have Four More Contests

Last Sunday the Crusaders and the Swordsmen were guests of Whalom Park, in Lunenburg, as were the Militiamen of Bedford.

Both corps marched in parade formation through the park, and attracted appreciative crowds as they performed a concert on the bandstand in the center of the park. Tickets were provided to all three corps by the management for lunch and rides, and the members of all three corps enjoyed a day off from the work of the competing season.

The Crusaders are to appear in the last two regular circuit contests this weekend, a Mayflower contest at Kelleher Field in Marlboro, and an Eastern Mass contest at Hurd Stadium in Beverly. These contests will provide the final point standings for the Crusaders in the two circuits.

The corps will compete on Sept. 14th in the Eastern Mass Championship, and on Sept. 21, at Deering Field in Danvers, the final Mayflower Contest of the year, which will be the official presentation of the Championship.

September 7th will be a special event for the Crusaders and the Swordsmen, when both corps will be the hosts to the Dantes, and their junior corps, the Hotshots. Plans for the day include a barbecue, and various field events including softball, at the Town Park.

This is a project of the corps Youth Committee, comprised of members elected from each section of the corps. It has become an annual event of the corps to invite another drum corps against which they compete, to put away the drums and bugles for a day, and get to know each other personally.

Letter

Dear Larz:

Thanks to all that so generously gave of their time and talent in assisting our Lions and Dr Gerald Davis and his staff of doctors, our late Superintendent of Schools, Dr Harold Shea, and Assistant Superintendent of Schools, Walter Pierce, and his staff, the custodian of the High School, the catholic Daughters of America, the women who responded to our plea for help in the newspaper, and also the wives of the Wilmington Lions Club. This was a perfect example of people helping people.

Thank you again.

EARL WAS A LITTLE SHY: Earl Hildebrand of 3 Lee Street was one of the hundreds of youngsters who had his eyes tested, at the Lions Clinic, last Saturday. He is waiting to peer through one of the eye testing machines, run by Dr. Barry Freedman of Stoughton. To the right is Dr. Han Dong, of Quincy, testing another youngster.

Selectman Boylen Explains His Position

Dear Larz:

As one of the selectmen who has been asked through your columns to make public my reasons for voting against a 10,000 gallon gasoline storage permit I would like to do so.

Let me make clear that Mr Barbo's industrial development in Wilmington has been beneficial to all of us as well as to Mr. Barbo.

However, Mr. Barbo's request for 10,000 gallons to operate eight trucks is in my opinion excessive. At the time I calculated that if eight trucks get ten miles to a gallon of gasoline each truck could go 12,500 miles on one storage truck delivery.

Although this license can be restricted to a non-commercial storage permit, the past minutes of the Board of Selectmen are replete with cases of license restrictions placed by one Board of Selectmen being lifted by another as witnessed by the two new gasoline stations on Main Street. Also, it must be remembered that this permit will be in effect long after Mr. Barbo and I have departed and been forgotten.

I am determined that during my tenure in office, that while industrial expansion will be encouraged that the pitfalls of the past that made Main St. what it is today will be avoided in other areas.

I am convinced that my vote was made in the best interest of the town. I am equally convinced that Mr Banda and Mrs Drew who disagreed, did so because they felt it was in the best interest of the town to do so.

I deeply regret anyone confusing this vote with the feeling of confidence I have in Mr Barbo.

Before using an oil stain on wood, you should always test it on a scrap piece of the same material. If you find that the stain soaks in so much that it gets too dark, you can make it lighter by wiping it off more quickly (or by wiping more vigorously).

If this doesn't work, try thinning the stain with a little turpentine.

If the stain soaks in unevenly and comes out blotchy, apply a thin coat of penetrating wood sealer first. This will partially seal the wood and lessen its porosity so that the stain will not soak in as deeply in the softer spots.

Flag Football Opens Next Tuesday

The Wilmington - Tewksbury Elks will open the 1969 Jaycee Flag Football season, next Tuesday evening, at 7:30, as they take on the defending champion, the Jim Miceli club, under the lights at the Town Park.

The Elks will host the Charles River Breeding Labs on Thursday and on Friday Jack Cushing's Newhouse Builders will take on Sweetheart Plastics.

The Charles River Coach, Bud Otis, welcomes a couple of acquisitions who, he expects, will pep up his attack measurably, Lenny Gustus and Billy Harrison. Last year Gustus finished third in the league for total offense, tossing 24 td passes, rushing for a 6.3 yard average, and tallying 53 points. Harrison caught 22 passes for 33 points, when not distinguishing himself on defense. Gustus will work at quarterback, while Harrison teams with Scott Ewell as wide receivers. Coach Otis, who carried 4 of his 15 receptions to paydirt, returns as center. First year man George Pratt and veteran Steve Call give the Breeders the loops biggest set of blocking backs.

On defense the team boasts a sizeable line in Bob Henderson, Keith Hubbard and brother Cliff. All League middle guard Harry Sewade will again back up the line, while the speedy Smalley brothers, John and Paul will man the corners. Denny Cormier and Butch Liscombe led the league in rushing, piling up 573 ards for a 7.3 per carry average, but in 1968 the aerial minded Miceli club proved that passing wins flag football games.

Liscombe's open field skill, however, should provide many kick return thrills in this 30 game season.

Pop Warner Football

The grunts and groans of the boys trying out for the Pop Warner Charges can't drown out the gentle voice of Rico Catalano, rging them on to deeper knee bends and higher push-ups, as the Chargers start off again towards another championship year.

If hard work, energy and determination will win the championship, the boys are a shoo-in.

The boys are shaping up under the watchful eyes of Paul Merri-gan and Charlie Lawrenson, walking through the plays, and having contact sessions. Occasionally the coaches sound like fishermen, wondering where 'the big ones' are but there is still time for them to show up, as the cut-off date is September 8th., and all boys are still welcome to sign up before then. The team realizes that some are still on vacation, or are just turning, and still allows a chance to get in before the deadline.

The players are in good running form their annual Sticker Day, Sept. 6th., when they are to canvas the town. Last year the drive was very successful, and they hope everyone approached will buy a car sticker, and help the Chargers to continue to bring excellent football teams to Wilmington.

Elks Bowling Team Tryouts

The Elks Bowling team will tryout at the Wamesit Bowling Alley at 7:00 pm on September 11. All members are urged to be there.

The Flage Football Team will open their schedule on Sept 2. Dan Bemis will coach, assisted by Cagey Sam Ethier. Opening game will be with Miceli Club under lights at the Town Park.

An Elks Fall Social will be open to the Public on Saturday, Sept 6 at 8 pm. Menu includes glazed roast pork with old fashioned dressing. Oven browned potatoes, apple sauce and vegetable. Music by the Five Sharps until 1 pm.

Managing Steward, Walter Sharkey announces hours of the new lounge for members and their guests: Thursday, Friday, and Saturday from 7 to 1 am. Sunday from 4 to 1 pm.

Friday night, Aug. 29th, is the drawing nite. Refreshments and free dancing. Chairman Barry Boyle invites all to come and enjoy the new hall.

Exalted ruler Ed Timonsky says Blitz parties are well attended and asks all to come early, since each week the attendance keeps growing.

The Ballroom has been very busy. The Town Softball League held its Annual Banquet on last Friday night. Saturday saw a lovely wedding reception for Ray Lightfoot's daughter. Sunday, there was an Anniversary Party for Jimmy Doherty's Parents.

For reservations for a wedding, banquet or party, the ballroom is capable of holding 500 people, and you may call Walter Sharkey at 658-9485. He will assist in locating a caterer and orchestra also.

Harold Shea Was Outstanding Leader

Harold S. Shea, Wilmington's Superintendent of Schools, whose sudden death last Thursday was a shock to the community, was one of the outstanding School Superintendents of the area.

In his nine years of office in Wilmington he inspired the school staff to better teaching and more efficiency, and at the same time was able to always give time to a perplexed parent with a problem.

He passed away while being rushed to Lowell in the Fire Department ambulance. He had been stricken in his office with an aneurism of the aorta (enlargement of the major blood vessel of the throat).

A native of North Adams, he was 57 years old, and had been the Superintendent of Schools in Fairfield, Connecticut, before accepting the Wilmington position nine years ago. He was a graduate of Fitchburg College, (BS), and his Master's degree was from Boston University. He also had studied at Columbia University in New York.
